RAIDER

Fighting with heavy two-handed axes, raiders are always found at the forefront of the Viking horde, hacking through any warriors foolish enough to stay there. Clad in leather and iron rings, their bodies are covered by tattoos – which they bear proudly, like souvenirs from past battles. These relentless warriors embody the ideals of being Viking: boundless bravery, spotless integrity, and unbridled passion.

DANE AXE

Dane axes have massive heads mounted on long, polished and often carved wooden handles. For adequate proportions, the length of the full axe (handle+head) should be the same as the height of the cosplayer.
