DedSec knows a guy who is part hacker and full-fledged anarchist. He wears a freaky mask with LED displays capable of bizarre emoticons. He's vulgar, crude, entertaining, and an absolute adrenaline junkie - he lives on the edge.

Dedsec follows a charge, and this guy charges full-steam ahead. They jokingly call him "The Wrench" because he's the wrench you throw into somebody's gears to grind them to a halt. He might actually be the arsonist on the news that the cops haven't caught yet. If the media wanted to sell a reason to fear DedSec, he'd be a great reason.

While most of DedSec works behind a screen, this man thrives out in the action and he seems to have no fear.
